

Public Relations Strategy Proposal

Monica Vendituoli, freelance communications consultant

Prepared for Radlett Capital, September 2022

A real proposal I wrote for Radlett Capital. Individual reporter names on the target list are withheld and the freelance rate has been removed. Everything else is as delivered.

Project goals

- Secure media coverage for Radlett Capital in at least one national, industry focused or local media outlet per fiscal quarter, through news coverage, industry awards, industry social media or industry event inclusion.
- Note that media coverage is never guaranteed, given the unpredictable nature of news, social media and world events.
- Provide media training for Radlett Capital's Chief Investment Officer, Natasha Dillion, and any additional executives who will take media interviews.
- Provide a framework for earned media relations strategy going forward, plus feedback on other avenues for establishing legitimacy, including paid media, social media, thought leadership and partnerships.
- Send at least 50 pitches, event applications and award applications per month.
- Track media coverage and provide analysis on areas of improvement once a month.

Project timeline and terms

- Timeline can be adjusted based on when the contract is signed and Natasha's availability.
- Available up to 20 hours per week, adjustable to fit Radlett Capital's needs.
- Contract renews monthly, with either party able to terminate on 14 days notice.
- Hourly rate withheld in this public version.
